

SUES FOR LOSS OF SHEEP FROM SCABIES

B. S. Terrill Brings Action In Circuit Court Asking $1,314.50 Damages From Traders

A suit for damages alleged to have been caused to sheep from scabies infection has been filed in the office of Circuit Clerk James W. Wagers, for trial at the next term of circuit court. It is an action brought by Attorney John Noland on behalf of B. S. Terrill, on the Berea pike, against John Lakes and Bert Parsley. Both are well known cattle dealers. The former lives on the Big Hill pike while Parsley is said to live in Laurel county.

The suit is for a total of $1,314.50 damages. The petition alleges that Mr. Terrill bought 112 ewes, 23 lambs, and 1 wether from the two traders, of which 20 lambs died, and 1 old sheep alleged to have been worth $314. The petition says that other sheep owned by Mr. Terrill became infected from those he bought, so that when they were sold a substantial loss was sustained on them. It is alleged that on 64 head sold, the loss was 75 cents a head, or $49.50, and on a carload of lambs the loss is alleged to have been $451. These sums added to the damage caused sheep on the farm brings the total amount of damages asked by Mr. Terrill from the two traders up to $1,314.50, which is the amount asked in the petition which has been filed.

A suit on a note is filed by the S. E. Welch Department Store of Berea, against A. D. Olmstead, W. B. Walden is attorney for the plaintiff. The amount is $300.

Attorney E. S. Wiggins has filed suit on behalf of Hoover and Allison, of Ohio, against Leslie Bradshaw, on a note for $223.15. The same attorney brought suit against the Madison Electric and Plumbing Company for $612.92, for merchandise alleged to have been bought from James M. McDonald and Sons Co., an Ohio corporation.

Chenault and Son, attorneys, have filed suit on behalf of T. G. Gay, T. J. Scribner, and Earl Scribner, against H. E. Hay, V. M. Gaines, etc., for $250 alleged to have been balance due on the $500 purchase price of an oil lease in Jackson county. The lease is known as the Richard Rader lease. Another similar suit is filed by the same attorneys on behalf of B. C. Richardson, Arthur Murphy, Wm. Johnson, for sale of another part of the same lease.

CONFISCATE HOGS FED ON 'SHINERS SLOP'

Middlesboro had a rude awakening Sunday night when a squad of officers led by C. L. Winfrey, federal prohibition agent, raided a house in the east end, captured a 60 gallon still, which the officers reported in full operation, eight tubs of beer, containing about 400 gallons, 10 or 12 gallons of singlings and made prisoners of Bruce Hill and Vic Evans, who they charged with operating the still, says the Pineville Sun.

The unwelcome visitors made a thorough job of their tour confiscating the house in which the still was operating and a bunch of hogs, fat and ready for slaughter, which they say were fed on the slop resulting from the still. The operations were cleverly concealed beneath the floor of the building, according to Mr. Winfrey.

Not content with one job the raiding party decided to make an evening of it and arrested a taxicab party containing a half dozen Pineville negroes, from whom they took moonshine, and confiscated the taxicab, operated by Will Kiding, of Pineville.

The entire party was brought here before J. G. Rollins, U. S. Commissioner, who fixed Hill's bond at $2,500 and Evans at $2,000.

WITH THE MOVIES

TRAGEDIES OF A PAST CAST
TEMPORARY SHADOWS ON WOMAN'S LIFE
Sonia Howard loved Hugh Mason but refused to marry him because of the things in her past that were haunting her. Mason was a lawyer who had successfully pleaded her cause when she was being tried for the murder of her husband that she was acquitted. What she did not know was that Sonia had the stain of murder on her soul—she shot the beast that was her husband!

The other shadow that hung over her life was an insidious and dangerous one. She had in her possession papers that were wanted by the Ring of Death. These she refused to turn over because they contained plans for a revolution in America—the land of her adoption, and the land she had learned to love.

Sonia Edward is the greatly wronged, strong-willed and loyal heroine of "Lifting Shadows," the gripping drama of romance and intrigue shown for the first time at the local theatres Saturday. Emmy Wehlen, too young absent from the silver sheet, returns more exquisitely beautiful than ever in the leading role, supported by Wyndham Standing, Stuart Holmes, Julia Swayne Gordon, and others. It's a Leonce Perret-Pathe feature.

PEARSON TELLS OF LOW PRICES IN SOUTH

"I'm not bringing much encouragement to the tobacco growers of the Blue Grass," said Col. James H. Pearson, well known auctioneer, as he reached home for Thanksgiving Turkey this week, direct from the tobacco markets of North Carolina where he has been crying sales all winter.

"The market is just naturally low and that's all there is to it. Tobacco is feeling the slump with everything else, except beets it seems, and the tobacco growers of Kentucky are face to face with the same proposition that I have just seen in the Carolinas. I think that good tobacco will bring a fair, living price, but as for the low grades, I'd hesitate to say anything about them. They may make good fertilizer."

This was Col. Pearson's first season selling on the southern breaks, and he made 'em all sit up and take notice. The papers there all spoke in highly complimentary terms of his work, characterizing him as the "Silver-tongued Cyclone" from the Blue Grass and in other flattering ways. His friends up here who have seen him in action know that he would make good in the Carolinas or anywhere else.

A dispatch from Maysville to the city papers says that the tobacco growers at the tobacco fair there announced that they would take Congressman Campbell Cantrell's advice and withhold from the market all low grade tobacco until later in the season. Most of the farmers declared that they have far better tobacco this season than for many years and that they would not let it go at a low price.

Attention is called to the big phonograph advertisement which is being inserted by H. L. Perry and Son in today's paper on the last page. However, this hustling firm got on the inside with one of the biggest manufacturers in the country, and are selling them for the holiday season for $85. They invite their friends in to hear the very latest records.

OLD TIMER STRONG FOR LEAGUE REVIVAL

Richmond's Former Star Catcher Wants To Try His Hand Again and Boosts the Game

A big boost for revival of the Blue Grass League was given here this week by an old Blue Grass League player who is now a prosperous farmer. He was n. other than Ade Thoss who is remembered by the fans as the star catcher on the Richmond line during the days when Richmond was fighting with might and main for the pennant.

Thoss who married and settled down as a hard working farmer near Red House, dropped into town to tell the fans that he is as good as ever, and ready to help old Richmond go after another pennant whenever there is a chance for revival of the league. Thoss has played a little ball every year. He went over and played with the Winchester independent team last year when they took all comers into camp. Val Vandingham, a former Blue Grass league pitcher, "shot 'em over" for the Winchester bunch and Thoss says that he has a lot of old stuff yet. He believes that Vandingham will get to work at once and guarantee that Winchester has a team in the league if the proposition goes through.

Thoss, of course, wouldn't play anywhere except with Richmond his first love. He has already been looking over the small town talent that has come to the front during the past several years. "I has a good line on several who would undoubtedly make good in the league. Cliff Tatum, of Paint Lick, who burned up the bush leagues last year, has already been spoken for Richmond's twirling staff. Tatum was given a try-out with the Louisville American Association team, but was sent to the minors for some seasoning, because Louisville already had a full staff of old heads. Tatum didn't like being sent to Timbuctoo or some other seaport so came back home to that dear old Paint Lick, Ky. He has many friends in Richmond, and is practically certain to be seen in a Richmond uniform when the old Blue Grass League starts to working again.

With a seasoned catcher like Thoss to work with him, his friends believe that Tatum will mighty quickly make the Louisville Colonels regret that they ever let him get away from them. Fans in Richmond and all over Madison are talking mightily favorably about revival of the league and backing a team in Richmond. In the old days of the horse and buggy, the old league "got by" fairly well when the boys were putting up a good brand of the national sport. Nowadays with flippers as thick as flies around a molasses barrel, and interest in the national sport keener than ever before in its history, it is confidently believed that a good ball team in Richmond would pull better than the make of porous plasters.

Anyway there are some 33d degree fans around these parts, and their numbers seem to be increasing daily—who are willing to take a chance on it, and if the other towns on the circuit "come through," as they undoubtedly will, old Richmond is pretty certain to be that or thereabouts when the Umps calls "Play Ball."

Back Yard Garden Exhibit

One of the most interesting of the many floral exhibits held in New York city this fall was that of the Back Yard Garden Club. The clubs are in operation all over the city, even in crowded slums where they might be expected least, and it is from some of these unlikely districts that proof comes of greatest success.

Exhibits of plants, flowers, small fruits and vegetables, with photographs taken before and after the gardening was under way, showed more than one frowsy back yard transferred from a thing of dirt and disorder to a place of restful beauty and even of productive value in foods.

When such successes are possible in a city with every vitiating influence to hinder the efforts of the gardener it becomes a matter of surprise the such work is not more enthusiastically carried on in communities where soil and surroundings and space work with instead of against human effort. Yet the unsightly yard is all too common. One cannot drive far enough out into the country to lose it altogether.

Offering beauty and rare privacy for its enjoyment, the back yard garden seems a particularly desirable outlet for human imagination and energy, and its spirit is in keeping with the nicety of those elder builders who "wrought with greatest care each minute and unseen part, for the gods see everything."

Having had their annual exhibit the back yard gardeners of New York are now busy clearing, covering and planting, getting ready for next year. Why not join the beautiful back yard fraternity?

AGED CITIZEN FALLS AND HURTS HIS HIP

Mr. William Reeves, of the Red House section, a highly respected citizen, fell last week and broke his hip and is in a serious condition. Mr. Reeves is 92 years old and is the father of Mr. J. M. Reeves, of Winchester. His many friends over the country are grieved to hear of the accident and hope for his speedy recovery.

The Winchester Democrat had the following about the children of Mr. Reeves going to his bedside:

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rims were called to Madison county, to be at the bedside of the former's father, W. E. Reeves, who fell on the snow and ice last week at his home. Mr. Reeves is ninety-one years old, the fall was a great shock to the old gentleman, and his recovery is doubtful. Mrs. Sarah White passed through Winchester enroute to Madison county to be at the bedside of her aged father, who fell on the ice last week and is suffering great pain.

The Product of Experience

DEAR FRIEND—

All the Chevrolets you see in use are proving that what we told their purchasers was true.

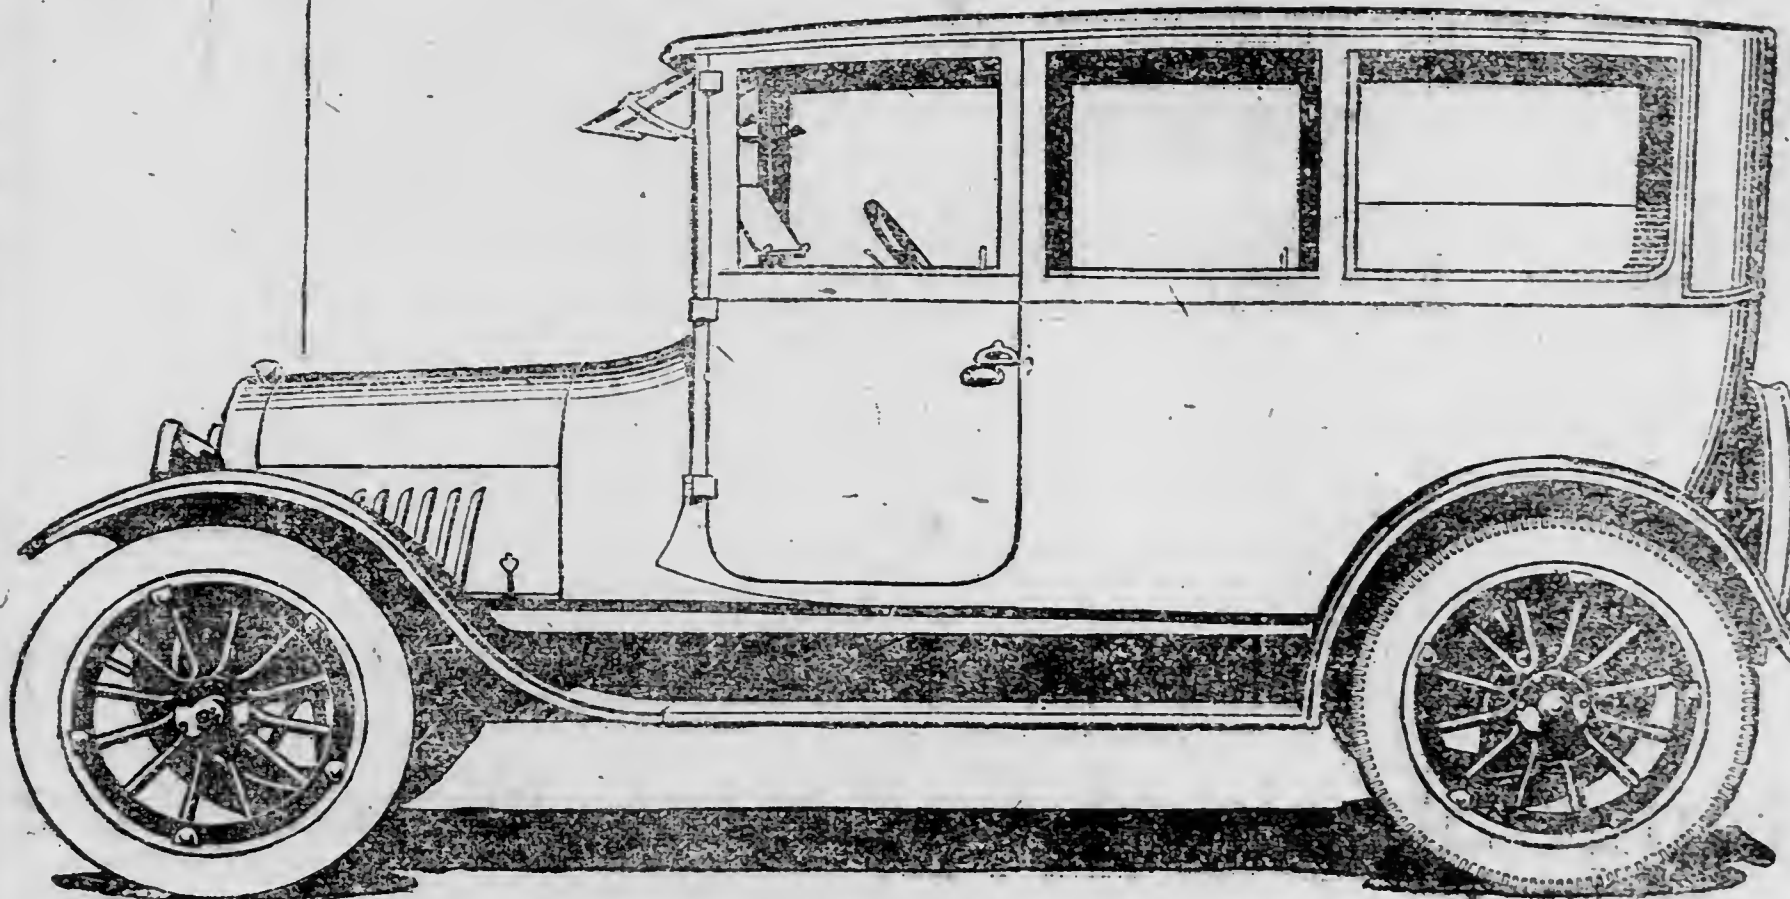

If these Chevrolets had not backed up all we said when we sold them, what we say to you now would not have so much weight. If the performance of each car we sell did not prove that our salesmen stick to absolute facts we certainly would have no repeat orders.

We chose the Chevrolet because it was the most honest value we could give our customers. We want you to understand clearly every feature of the Chevrolet and how it will serve you.

Everything about it is of interest and of value to you.

And it will be a great pleasure to explain in person the reasons why it will benefit you as it has hundreds of thousands of others.

You'll be surprised at the savings this Sale Affords. Buy your Christmas Gifts NOW.

These is a changed look on the faces of our store friends, these days--brighter, happier, more enthusiastic, when they see the goods we show and when they learn the NINE CENT PRICES.

It seems like years that we had to face the startled look and then the patient expression of tired endurance, as prices were quoted on all kinds of goods. We had the same experience, every time we went to market. Every price seemed forbidding, and often impossible; but we had to pay the big prices, or fail to supply you with wanted goods. Those have been hard years on all of us. But now those hard days have past.

We're fighting the way back to normalcy in prices, and shopping this week, is a GENUINE DELIGHT! We are delighted to have such splendid goods to show you, and such low prices to quote you.

In every section of our store the NINE CENT SALE PRICES RULE. Many goods have been newly bought on the lower basis--others we have reduced in price at once, because we want to GET BACK TO NORMAL PRICES AT ONCE, and are willing to take the big loss that we knew had to come, and be ready to do profitable business again when these goods are gone.

Also, we realize that every dollar we lose becomes A BIG SAVING FOR OUR FRIENDS, and by taking the loss now, our customers may enjoy a full season's use of the goods, instead of the half season, if we waited until Sanuary. Mail orders filled, when stocks permit, in the order received.

HOT, DIZZY FEELING

Atlanta Lady's Uncomfortable and Annoying Condition Relieved, She Says, by Cardui.

Atlanta, Ga.—Miss Alice Frances Young, of 28 East Alexander Street, this city, says: "After entering womanhood, I suffered so much with womanly weakness. My back ached. I would have, at certain times, a hot feeling that seemed to go to my head. Even my shoulders would hurt, and it made me very dizzy and uncomfortable. When the blood would flow to my head—I suppose that was what it was—I would faint and feel so weak. I couldn't do my work. I had a good position, and this was surely annoying as well as embarrassing. I would usually have to go home and go to bed. I certainly suffered greatly. I heard of Cardui, and my mother bought it for me. It was the first and only medicine that ever did me any good for this trouble."

Dizziness, headache, sideache, backache, tired-out feeling and other disagreeable symptoms are often signs of womanly troubles. Thousands of women who formerly suffered from these and similar ailments have found Cardui a very valuable remedy. Cardui is composed only of pure, vegetable ingredients which have long been recognized as of medicinal value in the treatment of many diseases and disorders peculiar to women.

Take Cardui. Your druggist sells it. NC-140

HOW'S THIS FOR A REAL CURE FOR INDIGESTION?

A writer in the Winchester Democrat says that kissing your girl will cure indigestion. He then gives the proper procedure to follow in taking that delightful medicine. Just listen to this:

The practice in vogue in many parts of Kentucky—and especially in Winchester—of chasing a girl around the furniture and finally rounding her up behind the piano and smacking a kiss on her rosy lips that sounds like the paper breaking on a Cox printing press has no more curative value than kissing an old maid at a camp meeting. The best results can be obtained about the mid-night hour when the dew is on the rose, the jasmine bud drunken with its own perfume, and the mocking bird thrilling a last good night to his drowsy mate.

You entice your best girl into the garden to watch Venus' flaming orb, like a mighty jewel hanging pendant from the crescent moon. You pause beneath the giant oak, with its leaves rustling softly as the wings of heavenly seraphs. Now don't be in a hurry, and for the love of Pete, don't grab. At such a time silence is the acme of eloquence. She watches the fire-flies flitting restlessly hither and thither amid the clover blooms, the while you twine a spray of honeysuckle in her hair.

Now she is watching the stars. You snuggle up close to her and give her head a rest on your shoulders. She withdraws her eyes from the stars and slowly, dreamily, meets yours; and you note they are filled with astral fire. They roam over the shadowy garden and then close with a weight of weariness. Her head rests on your shoulder, she trembles, your head gently until her breath burns your cheek—then, cure your indigestion, boy, cure your indigestion.
